

Synopsis:

Wanting more detective dramas, the Chairman Gordon writes a whodunnit. But there is a twist... he finds himself enveloped in a real-life murder mystery that threatens to put him behind bars. Can the four friends get away with murder?

Character descriptions:

ALL CHARACTERS IN 30's-40's!!

You will do English accents in the show, but not at auditions.

Gordon: The chairman, who is quite eager for the public to have more detective mystery shows. He is confident and he knows what he wants in the whodunnit, which he wrote. He does not like people correcting him, or his script. It's his way or no way.

Bernard: He is the jokester of the friend group. He is lazy, flirtatious, and very easy going. He will support his friends and their aspirations.

Joyce: She is very naive but loves her friends, even when they are mean to her. She means well in all of the things she does.

Margaret: She is very sassy, uptight, formal, short tempered, and straight forward. Irritated easily with people's shortcomings.

SIDES:

Gordon and Bernard - page 2 from Joyce: "What on earth..." to page 3 Gordon: "No, sadly.." - Hadley will read for Joyce

Gordon and Joyce - page 14 from Gordon's: "Trust me, Joyce.." to page 16 Gordon's "Fine! Take a break!"

Gordon and Margaret - page 17 from Margaret's: "Look Gordon..." to page 18 Gordon "Fair cop"